

Says His Parents Didn't Want Him

Jerry McLeran

A strange story of how he has lived in Chicago from hand to mouth for two months by himself because his parents didn't want him has been revealed by 11-year-old Jerry McLeran, who was found sleeping in an alley by the wife of an unemployed interior decorator. The owner of a rooming house in which Jerry's parents had lived said the McLerans had seven other children whom they kept with them, but "seemed to have no use for Jerry."

APPEASEMENT
RUMOR IS HIT

United States Announces Military Mission To China

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The United States, by announcing a military mission to Chungking, gave Japan tangible proof today that this country intended no change in its attitude toward the so-called China incident.

The announcement that the mission would depart in two weeks also was apparently calculated to reassure the government of Chiang Kai-shek that the lease-lend program would continue unchanged in its effort to supply ill-armed China.

When Prime Minister Churchill, in his speech Sunday, mentioned that the United States was negotiating with Japan in hopes of "a fair and amicable settlement" in the Orient, uneasy fears were voiced in Chungking that some sort of an appeasement deal might be under discussion.

Secretary of State Hull acted promptly to spike such reports, explaining to his press conference Monday that existing conversations with Japan were of an informal character.

President Roosevelt further hit the appeasement reports yesterday when he disclosed that he was about to send the military mission to the battered Chinese capital at Chungking.

The phrasing of the official announcement led some to believe that closer coordination was planned in the moves of forces opposed to Japanese expansion in the Orient.

Brigadier General John Magruder was named as the head of the mission, but the remainder of its personnel was not immediately made known.

Army Ordnance Association Hits Lack of One
Administrative Head for Arms Production; Lists Good Spots, Also

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The Army Ordnance association, a semi-official body, today condemned strikes for a "disgraceful blot" on the record of defense progress and listed as a companion debit the lack of a single administrative head for armaments production.

The association asserted flatly that defense strikes "should be outlawed once and for all in order that the vast majority of willing hands may do their share in defense production."

The Ordnance organization also found reason to deplore the delay in fixing "a ceiling on all prices"—a delay which it said "has added millions to the cost of national defense and points the way to monetary inflation which may defeat the very purpose of the defense effort."

IRAN IS READY TO END FIGHT

Guarantees Virtually All
Germans Would Be Expelled Soon

(By Associated Press)

TEHERAN, Iran, Aug. 26.—(Tuesday)—(Delayed)—The British and Soviet ministers, after an audience with the shah, have transmitted to their governments an Iranian plea that the war cease and a guarantee that virtually all Germans would be expelled from the country within a week, it was reported reliably today.

A few Germans in "indispensable technical posts" would be kept for a while until substitutes could be trained to take their places, under the reported offer.

Premier Ali Mansur in a ten-minute address before parliament charged that the Russians were bombing "open, undefended towns" in Azerbaijan province along the Russian frontier. He told the legislators that the Soviet army was driving toward Tabriz, Iran's second largest city 60 miles south of the border, "with a great number of troops." (The Russians say they have taken Tabriz.)

Russians Capture Dilman

MOSCOW, Aug. 27.—Russian troops driving southeastward into Iran directly toward Teheran have captured the town of Dilman, only 100 miles northwest of the capital, the official Soviet news agency Tass announced today.

Dilman is 150 miles inside Iran from the Soviet Azerbaijan frontier, and was occupied yesterday on the second day of the British-Russian invasion, Tass stated. The town is 20 miles from the Caspian coast.

A strike of CIO-Steel Workers' Organizing Committee members seeking a union shop closed the Mackenzie Muffler Co. plant in Youngstown today, leaving about 200 employees idle.

The SWOC recently obtained a contract with the company following a national labor relations board election. J. C. Starkweather, general manager, said the company was willing to negotiate all matters but would not compel employees to stay in or join a union.

At Newark, O., the AFL-International Machinists union won an NLRB election at the Shuler Engineering Co. which was closed three days last week by a strike. Edward Baker, secretary of the Newark Federation of Labor, said the union was 48 for the union and none against. The plant, which has considerable defense orders, employs 66 persons.

Delay Requested

Meanwhile, the Office of Production Management announced formally in Washington that an OPM representative, with the approval of Director William S. Knudsen, asked employees of the Curtiss-Wright airplane plant in Columbus to defer a strike to support demands for a NLRB-sponsored election. Earlier, OPM officials had said Knudsen made no request in the dispute.

Delegates To Ohio Yearly Meeting Launch Sessions In Damascus

Hundreds of Friends, delegates to the Ohio Yearly meeting of the Society of Friends, yesterday attended the opening sessions of a six-day meeting yesterday morning with a prayer and praise service at 8:30 and with opening minutes, roll call and sermon at 9:30.

At 10 the young people met in the Damascus church for a discussion of their affairs.

The ministry and oversight met at 1:30 to start the afternoon sessions while at 3:40 there was a session of the Women's Missionary Union where reports were given by Rachel Mostrom and Ethel Naylor. A 7:30 gospel service concluded the day's meeting.

List Today's Schedule

Highlight of today's meeting was the 1:30 business session which will include references and requests from quarterly meetings, Digest of Epistles, and the report of the committee on the abolition of the liquor traffic and law enforcement. A speaker will also be heard at that time.

The delegates will meet at 3:40 this afternoon and a gospel service at 7:30 tonight will conclude today's activities.

Important reports scheduled for tomorrow include those of the committee of education and the committee of peace and service. There will also be an address by Perry Hayden, "Don't Die On Third."

KENSINGTON LEVY
APPROVAL SOUGHT

The Columbiana county election board today listed two more special issues on which electors in smaller communities will ballot at the Nov. 4 general election.

They are a two-mill levy for three years for general operating expenses in the Kensington special rural school district and a 1-mill levy for five years to pay street-lighting costs in New Waterford.

The school levy concerns voters in the south precinct of Hanover township. New Waterford turned down the streetlighting tax at its last village election two years ago.

Would-be candidates were reminded by the board today that Sept. 5 is the deadline for filing independent or non-partisan petitions to get on the November ballot.

MARINES SEEKING

Men between the ages of 17 and 30 who are normal physically and have no criminal records are eligible to join the marines. Sergeant Waters said. They may enlist for a four-year period or for the duration of the present emergency period.

ROMANIANS PAINT
SALEM'S CITY HALL

Non-Federal Project No. 1 got under way at city hall this morning, much to the astonishment of passersby and city employees as well.

The historic old building is getting a new coat of paint, provided for, not by city, state and federal administrations, but by the Salem Romanian society. It was years ago when the landmark last had a new coat of paint.

The society will be host to the biennial Romanian national convention here next week and officials and members of the local organization felt that the municipal building of their city should be bedecked for the occasion.

The hat was passed around, a sufficient number of coins were tossed in and the sight of the painters at work today probably attracted more attention than will the arrival of the city's new fire truck within the next day or two.

WILL EXTEND WORK OF "HATCHET MEN"

Former Legislators Whetting Taxes to Whack at Public Expenses

The bi-partisan organization of "Hatchet Men," a combination of Republican and Democratic senators who chopped up Martin L. Davey's ideas when Davey was governor of Ohio, are far from being an extinct party.

In fact, John Taylor of Salem, president of the "Hatchet Men," will tell you the group is whetting their axes again to whack at government costs.

The members have continued their association since the close of the 1937-38 general assembly and today stand prepared to broaden their activities.

They have decided to perpetuate their organization. At the end of each general assembly session, two Democrats and two Republicans from the senate will be invited to become members—senators whose records have followed the precepts of "hatchetery."

Plans are being considered, Taylor explains, to organize "Hatchet clubs" in communities throughout the state. Members of the present organization believe that it is going to be necessary in the not-too-far distant future to reduce the cost of state government. "In fact," Taylor says, "the whole system of taxation, we believe, is in for examination. The necessity for it will be in evidence next March when we pay our income tax."

The Salem man denied reports that the "Hatchet Men" were hunting a candidate for governor. The group has its own stationery, bearing the insignia of the organization, a double shield hung from a cherry tree branch. The shields are red, with a white axe in the left and a likeness of George Washington in blue in the right one. Between the shields is a blue star.

Sanction Bond Issue

EAST LIVERPOOL, Aug. 27.—The board of education today ordered a $50,000 bond issue submitted at the November election here to provide funds for completion of a $150,000 high school gymnasium-auditorium, and also to make changes in High school class rooms.

SOVIET HURLS
GERMANS BACK

Report Successful Counter
Attacks: Air Battles
Under Way

MOSCOW, Aug. 27.—Red army counter-attacks have hurled the Germans back from the approaches to an undisclosed city, Izvestia, the government newspaper, reported tonight as heavy battles continued in front of Odessa and Leningrad.

The city was identified only as "K" and the dispatch to Izvestia said heavily superior numbers of Germans had been thrown into defeat, losing thousands of men, after being held up there for more than a month.

Battle For Sky Mastery

A tremendous aerial battle for mastery of the skies developed over Leningrad as the big city's army and militia defense stiffened for a last-ditch fight, but Izvestia reported industry going at full blast both there and in Odessa.

An early-morning communiqué said 101 of the 156 German planes listed as destroyed during Sunday and Monday were shot down in fierce dogfights along the approaches to the old capital of the Czars, or smashed in raids on nearby air-dromes from which the Nazi aircraft were sprung.

Defenders of the city declared that despite repeated German raids, not a bomb had fallen within the city limits.

A mid-day war bulletin made no mention of specific sectors but declared:

"During the night of Aug. 26-27 our troops continued to fight the enemy on the entire front."

The Russians reported withering.

COUNTY TURNS DOWN
VILLAGE PROPOSAL

LISBON, Aug. 27.—County commissioners Tuesday denied the petition presented by a group of residents of the Village of Summitville, Franklin township, asking that the village be permitted to incorporate for the purposes of civic improvements.

A hearing on the petition signed by 35 residents of the village, was held by the board of commissioners one month ago, at which time much opposition was voiced by township residents outside the village who contended the township would suffer loss of revenue from gasoline tax, as the village would receive a large share.

The commissioners took the matter under advisement after the hearing and gave no explanation in handing down the decision.

FLIERS GROUNDED

Mrs. Hugh Kells' first extended flight in an airplane provided at least one thrilling experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Kells, recently married, flew to Bethlehem last Friday to visit with relatives. On their way home yesterday afternoon their plane ran into a heavy storm near Greensburg. Unable to force his way through, Kells was forced to make an emergency landing in a field.

Neither Mr. or Mrs. Kells was injured and the plane escaped damage. Kells recently was awarded his pilot's license after completing the CAA course sponsored here by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Fatally injured apparently some time last night, the body of T. A. Eckstein, about 40, of 864 Franklin st., was found this afternoon in his battered sedan in the bottom of a ravine a short distance south of Sheen's filling station on Route 45.

The discovery was made by Doris Sprowl who lives in a farm nearby, and several other girls who were on a short hiking trip. They informed operators at the filling station who in turn called the state highway patrol here.

The patrol theorized that Eckstein's car, enroute south sometime during the night, got off the road on the macadam curve strip just south of the filling station, outside the guard rail, and then plunged down through the brush over the embankment.

Eckstein's body was found in the rear of the automobile.

Eckstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eckstein, has been employed for some time by the Natural Gas Co. here as an appliance salesman.

He has a wife, two daughters and a son.

Raymond C. Cobb of Damascus, a graduate of Mt. Union college and Kent State university, has been employed to teach sciences at the High school. Mr. Cobb recently was named principal of the Smith township rural school district in Mahoning county but resigned that position to accept the Salem offer.

Succeeding Mr. Cobb there is Leon Force of Diamond, who has been principal of an eight-room school at Leetonia.

PUSH IMPROVEMENT OF COUNTY ROAD

LISBON, Aug. 27.—The improvement of a 2½ mile section of the old Wellsville-Salineville highway, extending from the Wellsville city limits to a point of intersection with State Route 39, entered its final stages Tuesday as the work of applying a bituminous top surface was begun.

Plans and specifications were drawn for the project by County Engineer Charles Snyder. The work of widening and surfacing the narrow brick roadway is being done with WPA labor.

Work is expected to be resumed on a mile section of the old Salineville-Gavers road early in September. The highway was graded last winter by the WPA and as soon as slag and materials can be obtained a hard surface will be applied to the secondary road.

MEMO FROM ANY AUTOMOBILE DRIVER

To all persons looking for heavy scrap steel: One of the great markets for steel used to be rails for street cars. Of recent years, this market has disappeared, along with a majority of the street cars. But not all the rails have disappeared yet. Tons of them still lie in streets, tearing automobile tires to pieces and always inviting an unwary driver to risk himself and his car on a free-swinging skid.

In view of the desperate need for scrap steel and the urgent necessity of saving rubber, this would be a fine time to finish a good job well started and take up the rest of the street car rails. Authorities estimate, incidentally, that there is no less than 300,000 tons of this stuff lying around the United States waiting to be given a proper place in national defense production. What, if anything, could anybody be waiting for?

HABIT FORMING

No attorney general ever has become president, but Francis Biddle, nominated for the post by President Roosevelt, can reflect that he now has a fighting chance to reach the supreme court. His predecessor, Robert H. Jackson, went from solicitor general to attorney general to the court, and another predecessor as solicitor general, Stanley F. Reed, made the jump to the court without stopping at the attorney generalship at all.

In the last 45 years five attorney generals have been elevated to the supreme bench. In recent years, the best way to reach the favored spot is to become solicitor general. The best way to become solicitor general, it seems, is to be such a good lawyer that when the government starts to look around for someone to represent it before the supreme court it will say, "Uncle Sam wants you." In a government of the legal profession and by the legal profession for the great American public, the competition is stiff.

SPECIALISTS

Use of the word "Specialists" to denote German agents allegedly in Persia to wreck oil wells and pipelines piles one more shade of meaning on an overworked term. However, if a specialist really is a fellow who knows more and more about less and less, perhaps a highly trained saboteur can be called one.

The Germans have specialized in specialists of all kinds of destruction. Before the campaign in Libya, they were reported training troops under tropical conditions, making desert warfare specialists of them. With a winter campaign in Russia viewed as probable, it is no surprise to hear that German troops are specializing in snow tactics. Other Nazi specialists excel at cutting wires and wrecking communication systems behind the lines, as fifth columnists. It is emphasis on specialization, in fact, that has enabled first the Kaiser's and now Hitler's Germany to hold the initiative in development of new methods of destruction. No other nation has been able to uncover similar aptitude for taking infinite pains to perfect techniques in the bloody art of warfare.

If the day ever should come when Germans as a people were to devote half as much interest and effort to the art of peace as they have given in this century to war, peace would cease to be a vain hope and become a concrete reality. The assumption in the now famous "eight points" that war is the product of the warrior nations and can be stopped by disarming those nations is based squarely on experience. There is no further inclination to treat war guilt as an academic question. The nation responsible for World War I and II is Germany. To let Germany precipitate a World War II would be a crime against reason. Its specialty needs to be countered by a new specialty, which will deal with the problem of keeping Germany from starting more wars.

INFLATION HITS YOU

Don't get the idea that inflation is something which affects only the bankers or the big interests of the country. It hits YOU and every thrifty working American.

If you have a job which will some day pay social security benefits, if you have an insurance policy or a savings account you will be hardest hit if inflation comes. That protection you have put aside for the rainy day will be worth no more than a silk parasol in a tidal wave.

Inflation out of control means that money which is put away today will be valueless in the future. Most tragic victims of the inflation which came to Germany after the World War were the thrifty middle class people who had saved their money. They had put their hard earned marks into savings and other annuities when the mark represented the pay for an hour's labor. After inflation it took 10,000 marks to buy a loaf of bread. A lifetime of savings was not enough to buy the week's groceries.

Concretely the American who earns $250 a month for 10 years will receive about $44 a month in social security benefits when he reaches the age of 65. If inflation comes he will still get his $44 but it will mean nothing. A man pays honest dollars to keep up life insurance in normal times but if inflation comes the policy will not bring security to his dependents. Even a minor inflation hits the man working on a stable salary for his income remains stationary while the cost of everything he buys advances.

These are reasons why no one can afford to ignore the signs of runaway inflation. It is not a financial theory but a fact which is vital to every man and woman in America and especially to the children who will be its victims.

Had there been vision in high places, following the World War, Britain and the United States would have joined interests in a common movement for future defense.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, August 28

AN EVENTFUL and surprising day is presaged by the interesting lunar and mutual configurations. An element of the curious, subtle, and unfathomable seems at the root of distinctly thrilling, intriguing and successful adventures, in which public issues or recognition is at stake. These may be major projects in which rich and powerful bodies or personages figure both openly and directly as well in a rather concealed or silent mode of co-operation. Constructive ideas and objectives should be advanced by hidden forces or faculties, shrewdly utilized.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the threshold of a year in which unknown, subtle or singular forces and faculties may be cunningly utilized to advance projects of major importance to the public or influential bodies of wealth and power. Intrigue, cleverly organized strategy, inspired or intentional factors figure with determination and effect. Unusual ideas and ideals practically applied, as well as logic and sound methods, should prove winners, creating progress and pleasure.

A child born on this day may have exceptional talents, with shrewd insight as well as idealistic impulses, all constructively allied to make an intriguing, progressive and pleasant life.

Headlines in one of our exchanges say: "Detroiters Still Walking To Work." And yet everybody in Detroit was supposed to own at least two automobiles.

Gradually the details of the Atlantic conference are becoming known, yet the public is still in the dark about whether the President or Winston caught any fish.

Eire denies that American air and sea bases have been discussed. Evidently the rumor was just a base canard.

The modern version is: "Billions for defense but not one penny for tribute," making the old version pretty cheap in the billion-dollar era.

BABE IN THE WOODS

INFORMING PUBLIC ON EPILEPSY

It's Not a Mental Disease, Experts Contend

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The Laymen's League against Epilepsy, established at the Harvard Medical school, Boston, is an organization composed of the best-informed public-minded physicians, and has as its object to keep the public informed about the progress on epilepsy and related diseases.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

More than that, its object is to carry out modern knowledge of epilepsy to those who need it, to dispel the taboos and superstitions which exist, and to try to teach the people who have these periodical spells that they are not outcasts from society or mentally deranged, and that there is nothing to be ashamed of in this condition any more than there is to any other ordinary disease.

In pursuance of this objective, an extremely valuable expression of the modern viewpoint on this condition is contained in a book called Science and Seizures by Dr. William G. Lennox of the Harvard Medical school (Harper & Bros., Paul B. Hoeber, 1941). This book treats not only of epilepsy but also of migraine headaches which are seizures of a somewhat related kind. Most of the taboos and popular ideas about these conditions are fully discussed.

Samples: Epilepsy is not a mental disease, but a physical disease. It is manifest by "disordered electric currents of the brain."

Is Epilepsy Hereditary? This is a frequent question which correspondents write to me. Statistical studies show that not more than twenty per cent of patients give a history of seizures in known relatives. It will not do, however, to minimize the possibility of hereditary epilepsy. If an epileptic has four children, there is one chance out of ten that one of these children will have seizures. If there are two children, the chances are one out of twenty. About one out of twenty-six relatives of the average patient has seizures.

Two great contributions have recently been made to the study of epilepsy by Boston physicians. One is a machine which can record the electric pulsations of the brain. These are picked up from the scalp and made to write a line. All people subject to epilepsy produce a pattern on this record. Different types are also recorded by the instrument. It pictures both danger signals and progress.

The second discovery is the use of dilantin to prevent or minimize the epileptic attacks.

There are many different kinds of epilepsy and there are many different causes for the seizures. The most important thing for a person subject to seizures to know is that a great deal of help can be given by the modern physician with modern methods. There is nothing to be ashamed of in the condition and anyone who is subject to it should consult a physician. The doctor can give him a great deal of help. Mental impairment may be the result of frequent seizures and when these are properly understood, the state of mind is improved.

A remarkable instance is that of a twenty-three-year-old man who had frequent seizures since childhood. He never learned to read or write. With the administration of the medicine, dilantin, which stopped his seizures, the man began to learn with great rapidity and in the course of six months, his mental age rose from six years to a level of ten years.

E. S. M.: "Is living in a three room apartment doing justice to a small child? This question is of interest to many married couples with a small child on a limited income. We have a bedroom, living room, bath and a good-sized kitchen; also a back porch with plenty of sunshine. Our child sleeps twelve hours every night and two hours during the day, but is the noise harmful to her even though she sleeps well? Naturally, we do not have any big parties but she is conscious of low talking when friends come in. We cannot live in isolation and shun our friends, but are we doing an injustice to her?"

Answer: It seems to me this child is decidedly not underprivileged, and I am afraid you are falling into the habit that many mothers acquire of fussy apprehension.

PUPPET LOVE by Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr.

SYNOPSIS

In all his twenty-four years, Christopher Allen Bishop had stood in awe of his family name and all it represented—bluebloods and millions! But today, he had gotten fed up with the whole artificial set-up, given up his $25-a-week "job," sent a farewell note to his aristocratic mother, and started out on his own in a roadster he had won in a radio contest. On the road to adventure, he picks up Joe Kane, a hitch-hiker. Against the latter's better judgment, they stop at a questionable lunchroom where Christopher's pocket is picked. Christopher retrieves his wallet but a free-for-all ensues with Christopher and Joe the victor. The boys part company in Joe's home-town of Cressville but, before leaving, Joe gives Christopher a card advertising "Kamp Kory Komfort" saying, "This is where I'll be. If you need a friend just yell for Joe." Driving along, the squealing strains of an organ came Christopher. Could that be the "The Blue Danube"? His ear for harmony outraged. Christopher goes in search of the "musician," and finds himself at a "Society Circus for the Benefit of Children's Hospital." On the side-lines, he comes upon a shabby trailer on the back of which a marionette show is being given; a satire featuring a society butterfly prouetting in a dizzy whirl. From inside the trailer comes that awful organ noise. Christopher contrives to meet Nicky the producer of the show, an attractive, curly-haired, blue-eyed girl. Nicky explains that she runs the show by herself and the raucous music he heard came from a melodeon attached to her car motor. When the motor misses, so does the music box; hence the cacophony. Nicky mistakes Christopher for one of the directors of the benefit, but he hastily explains that he abhors such gatherings. Learning that Nicky shares his feelings, Christopher invites her to dinner. He offers to help her couple her car and trailer.

CHAPTER SIX

Nicky led the way around the trailer to a car parked at the rear. Christopher thought of it in the past tense. It was not a model T by one generation!

"It goes!" he asked doubtfully.

"You heard it," Nicky said, climbing into the driver's seat to demonstrate. It went, but with the most violent symptoms of rheumatism and asthma.

"It's a bit old," he commented nervously, as she backed closer to the trailer.

"We're called together from pups," she said, doing some adroit manipulating to bring the car in line with her puppet show home.

A few moments later, from a strategic point beneath the trailer, Christopher sweat and struggled with the spare wheel which was to be taken off and the coupling which was to be fastened. And while his broad shoulders never sagged under economic strain, he had done more than a usual share of wrestling, boxing, and gymnastics. But now the arduous task of shifting and coupling a trailer had him sweating. He marvelled at Nicky. How under heaven could she do it?

When he asked her about it, the Young Bishop liked it even more when he carried water for Nicky.

trailer finally hitched safely to the car, and Christopher wiping perspiration from his face, Nicky shrugged:

"I don't know. I sort of prop up a side with a stick and pull the coupling nearer with a piece of chain and then I kick the wheel from under. . . . Oh, I manage," she finished. Christopher's marvel only increased at this first lesson in woman's idea of mechanics.

"But how about the dinner?" he insisted, following her to the car.

"I can't go out to dinner," she shook her head. "I've got to take this outfit to Green Grove. I found a garage mechanic at the tourist camp who is good. I'm playing down near Baltimore tomorrow afternoon, and I've got to get an early start."

"But you still must eat," Christopher insisted.

Nicky, tying a bandana around her curls and achieving a rakish effect without the aid of a mirror, seemed to consider the problem.

"You have been awfully sweet," she agreed. "If you want to come to Green Grove, you can have supper with me in the trailer, while the car's being fixed. They have free showers down there, too."

Christopher flushed. "I do need one rather badly, and I'd love to come. You lead on and I'll be right after you."

By the time Nicky had swung the cumbersome trailer out of the driveway, Christopher was in his car, all set to follow. Nicky drove back across the river and through the town where Christopher had left Joe. Suddenly he remembered about the tourist camp near Baltimore, and Joe's card in his pocket. Why, perhaps Nicky might go right past that place. He wondered if Joe was going to hitch-hike to his new job or if he had a lift. This time the day before he would not have realized those things could be problems to people, just as he hadn't realized that a girl might travel around the country with a sort of combined home-and-profession on wheels.

But there she was. The tar paper on the trailer gleamed a lovely purple touched with small pools of gold in the sunset. The gold was where it was patched with tin.

In half an hour the trailer wobbled and veered as the car pulled it off the road and into a wide cleared space in the grove. Green Grove Tourist Camp—Welcome! read the sign over the drive. Christopher followed the trailer to a stop at the end of the clearing.

While Nicky went into a huddle with the mechanic, Christopher explored. It was quite a place. Small cabins could be rented in prices ranging from 50c to $2.00 a night. Trailer parking, including use of light and water, and all facilities, $1.00 a night. Special rates by the week.

Whole families were gathered about outdoor tables, coffee and steaks and soup sizzled on the stoves. Laundry flapped on several lines strung from parked trailers to neighboring trees. Radios added sound and fury to the scene. Everybody smiled at Christopher. He liked it.

Young Bishop liked it even more when he carried water for Nicky, helped drop the sides of her incredible trailer. It was a new aroma to Christopher. A blend of pines and coffee and bacon, with a thread of gasoline throughout, but he liked that, too. He likewise enjoyed the shower, a mere box of a compartment for the use of which one waited in line at that hour of day.

In clean linen, his dark brown hair flattened in order, he felt splendidly alive—and terrifically hungry. He went striding toward the trailer as though it were a mirage that might fade before he reached it.

Twilight had come. Nicky's hurricane lamp gleamed a bright welcome. The small side table was spread with a red table cover and paper napkins and a type of dishes never seen in the Bishop home—bright blue and rather frail looking. Out of a sudden wave of embarrassment, as he stood stoop shouldered in the trailer, Christopher spotted the dishes gratefully. He'd been raised to china, the ordering of a meal and proper service.

"Everything looks grand, Nicky, and those dishes—they are attractive."

"I like them," she flung over her shoulder from the stove where she

"Fifteen or twenty cents! Never since he was in college trying to budget his dollar allowance, had Christopher heard such small sums spoken of so seriously.

"I hope you'll like this," Nicky continued, turning from the stove, and Christopher gazed admiringly. She, too, had most evidently visited a shower. Her dark, curly hair was still damp, her skin was lovely, catching a golden sheen in the lamp light. Her fresh blouse with its sailor collar gave a new angle to the lovely lines of her throat. She was much much prettier than he'd first thought her—and younger, too. Twenty-two at tops!

ALLURE IS ONE OF MAIN POINTS IN FALL FASHIONS

Allure, 1941 version, is one of the main points in feminine fashions for fall. At a recent fashion show in New York emphasis was put on the siren costume, for both daytime and evening. The three dresses pictured above, were shown at this time. At left a frock in black wool and satin. The skirt has a satin yoke, it has dolman sleeves, and the Dhoti (Hindu aristocratic) drape. A black fox hat and muffs are worn with this costume. The other ensemble for brisk fall days, right, consists of a two-toned wool dress in moose brown and black, with a tiny bolero of black Alaskan seal. The skirt of this dress also is draped, crossed and folded in front, tapering in the new line. A brown and black hat and brown gloves complete the outfit. The demure dinner dress, center, is a decided step toward romance in its princess lines. It is made in pale blue moire taffeta lavishly trimmed with passementerie, and a peekaboo yoke of black net seductively reveals white shoulders beneath.

TROLLEY WORKERS FAVOR AFL UNION

DETROIT, Aug. 27.—Employees of Detroit's municipally-owned department of street railways today selected the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Operators (AFL) to represent them as an exclusive bargaining agent.

Complete but unofficial tabulation of the votes cast in a special election showed 3,075 for the AFL union and 1,924 for the State, County and Municipal Workers of America (CIO).

Extra details of police were assigned to the car barns and bus terminals, where voting booths were set up but only minor instances of violence were reported.

You can tell THAT by those smart lines, original touches and the simplicity that spells easy making. One simple panel goes down the front skirt. And, if you like extra color, the collar and yoking may be in refreshing contrast.

Pattern 4869 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric.

Plan Move Against Gas Profiteering

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—A plan of action against gasoline profiteering was drafted by the government today, and tomorrow senate investigating committee proposes to begin finding out whether the reported eastern oil shortage is supported by facts.

Leon Henderson, price administrator, indicated he would proclaim forthwith a ceiling for motor fuel prices to protect the 10,000,000 Atlantic seaboard motorists against unwarranted price increases.

Secretary Ickes, the defense petroleum coordinator, was called as the first witness before a special sub-committee of the senate commerce committee, but since he was vacationing in the west, it was expected Ralph K. Davies, acting coordinator, would appear in his stead.

President Roosevelt, at his press conference yesterday forecast that the problem of supplying the east with oil would be eased substantially by spring, through launching of new tankers and by building of two pipelines from the southwest to the eastern seaboard.

The trend of discussion in oil circles indicated the gasoline investigation would hinge on four questions:

1. Is there a bona fide shortage?
2. Does there exist an organized effort by certain persons or interests to circulate false information to confuse the public?
3. Was there justification for transfer to Britain of one-fifth the tanker fleet hauling oil from gulf ports to the eastern seaboard?
4. How effectively are railway tank cars being used to meet the emergency, and how many surplus or idle tank cars are available?

Woman Parachute Group Being Formed

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27—The California State Guard is recruiting a hospital battalion of women parachuteists to land complete ambulance sections behind battle lines.

The women will be equipped to give blood transfusions from powdered or liquid blood, also dropped from planes, and to administer other treatment to war casualties ordinarily available only at field hospitals.

"So far as I know, nothing of the sort ever has been attempted either by the United States army or in the present war," said Maj. Frank G. Nolan of the California State Guard medical corps. He has been placed in command of two battalions... one of women, the other of men.

Major Nolan already has received applications from half a dozen trained women parachute jumpers and from nine women fliers holding pilots' licenses. He has enlisted 89 women of the personnel of 42 required for the four companies, one of which will consist of Negroes.

2ND ARMY TROOPS FACE "FOE" TODAY

WITH THE ARMY IN ARKANSAS, Aug. 27—After ten days fighting against the strategy of a token force, Second army troops were thrown into man-to-man combat today for the first time.

The 33rd division of Illinois took the role of the Almaty army defending the vital main line railroad from the Little Missouri river to Camden against the assault of the Kotmk, represented by 55,000 of the Seventh army corps' 75,000 soldiers.

Maj.-General Samuel T. Lawton, former Illinois parole board commissioner, deployed his 10,000 men along a line running northwest to southeast along Cypress creek in South Arkansas. A reconnaissance troop of the 107th Ohio cavalry was assigned for patrol duty.

Facing them along the ten mile front was the 27th New York division and the 35th Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri division, enforced by horse troops and scout cars of the 107th cavalry and the 7th brigade two Tennessee regiments of 155 mm. Howitzers.

Seventh army corps' instructions to the two armies were brief. The Almatians were told to defend the railroad, the Kotmk soldiers to take it.

The 24-hour problem, starting at mid-day, will end the first phase of the Arkansas war games.

Brooklyn Woman, Children Killed
(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 27—A Brooklyn woman and three of her four children were slain, their throats slashed, and her other child and her husband were wounded similarly today, apparently, Assistant District Attorney Edward A. Heffernan said, because the entire family suffered from a contagious disease which he did not identify.

In the blood-spattered flat where the slayings occurred detectives found a note, which Heffernan said probably was written by the woman, Mrs. Mary Morey, 34. It read: "This is the best way out. Don't touch anything."

The dead children were Marcella, 7, Claire, 4, and Paul, 3. The wounded are William, Jr., 11, and his father, William, a former policeman, both taken to Methodist hospital.

William, Jr., is not expected to live.

Neighbors said they heard screams coming from the Morey apartment at 5:50 a. m. (EST) and, investigating, found William, Jr., wandering about the poorly furnished flat, his head and throat bleeding.

Meanwhile, a bakery deliveryman summoned police. Radio patrolmen entered the apartment and found Mrs. Morey and the four children lying face down in the rear bedroom.

Assistant District Attorney Heffernan quoted Morey, who was dismissed from the force in 1918 on intoxication charges, as saying: "My wife did it. My wife did it."

A hatchet handle and its bloody blade were found in different parts of the flat. A small knife, blood-stained, was found near the bodies.

Capture Unconfirmed
There was no confirmation in Moscow of German claims last night of the capture of Luga, 50 miles south of Leningrad on the rail line to Pskov, and of the great hydro-electric power center of Dnieperpetrovsk, on the west bank of the Dnieper.

An early-morning communique declared specifically that Finnish forces fighting along the Karelian Isthmus had not advanced beyond Kakisalmi, 75 miles north of Leningrad.

(The Finns have made no mention of the Kakisalmi sector in the past several days, but reported last night they still were driving toward the old Karelian capital of Viipuri. It is the same distance from Leningrad as Kakisalmi but is on the western shore of the Isthmus.)

Brooklyn And St. Louis Split In Crucial Doubleheader, 8-3, 3-1

5,000 FANS STAND AS DODGERS HOLD 1 1/2-GAME MARGIN

Homer by Camilli In the Second Game Prevents Shutout by Cooper

(By Associated Press) Brooklyn's beloved bums have met the enemy and although they didn't conquer, neither were they conquered. Brooklyn looked like a whirlwind against the St. Louis Cardinals in winning yesterday's opener, 8-3, and then subsided into a zephyr before the magnificent pitching of Mort Cooper in losing the eight-inning nightcap, 3-1.

However, the Dodgers came out with their 1 1/2 game lead intact and seemed to have an edge in the remaining schedule.

After meeting the sizzling Cincinnati Reds tonight at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn will have 30 contests left to play. Ten of them, including three at St. Louis, are against the western clubs, and all the others are against the second-division eastern group.

Cards Not Up To Par

The Cardinals without Terry Moore and Enos Slaughter in the outfield did not look like the same club and except for Cooper's great pitching and a fielding breakdown by Peevie Reese of the Dodgers in yesterday's nightcap, St. Louis would have been routed.

In the first tilt Curt Davis pitched an effective seven-hitter and smacked his second circuit blow of the season.

Cooper pitched a seven-hitter in the nightcap and would have had a shutout except for another homer by Camilli in the eighth inning. Cooper was matched for six scoreless innings by 40-year-old Fred Fitzsimmons, but in the seventh Reese made two consecutive errors at shortstop and Johnny Hopp, who had been held hitless all day, doubled to score both runners.

The doubleheader drew a crowd of 39,077, five thousand more than the park could seat.

All Play Doubleheaders

Because of Monday's rain, all the National League contests were doubleheaders. The world champion Reds split with the New York Giants, Pittsburgh divided at Boston, and the Chicago Cubs captured two from the Phillies.

The Giants beat Bucky Walters, 7-4, then had the Reds retaliate with a 5-4 decision on six-hit hurling by Junior Thompson.

Jim Tobin, using his newly-developed knuckleball, pitched a four-hit game to stop the Pirates, 4-3, and Max Butcher came back with a six-hitter to win the nightcap, 6-1.

The Cubs collected three home runs for a 5-4 victory, then romped to an 11-3 triumph in the afterpiece.

In the American league the Boston Red Sox regained third place by beating the Cleveland Indians, 9-4. Dutch Leonard was touched for 10 hits, but managed to evade trouble as the Washington Senators tossed out the St. Louis Browns, 2-0.

The Philadelphia Athletics swept a double bill from the Detroit Tigers, 9-1 and 2-1.

WESTSIDERS WALLOP EASTSIDERS, 17 TO 8

The Eastsiders and Westsiders, last remnants of the American League junior hardball loop, continue to battle it out daily at Centennial park. In yesterday's game the Westsiders walloped the Eastsiders 17-8 as Laughlin allowed only 7 hits.

Shoots Qualifier Round In 67

Stewart Alexander of Burlington, N. C., stands happily still as Steve Kovach marks on Alexander's back the North Carolinian's first round score in the national amateur qualifying test at Omaha, Neb. Alexander shot a 67 to lead the field and to tie a national amateur mark which has stood for 17 years.

LESNEVICH WINS, BUT FIGHTS AGAIN

Narrow Outpointing Will Bring Return Match In November

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gus Lesnevich, the fellow who was always the bridesmaid and never the bride in the light-heavyweight picture, was boss of the 175-pounders today, but he's going to have to prove it again to make it stick.

The rugged Russian from Jersey gained undisputed possession of the championship last night in Madison Square garden by outpointing Tami Mauriello, the young baby-faced flatter from the Bronx.

But he did it by a margin as close as a fresh shave, and there was such a question left in the minds of the fans after it was over that Promoter Mike Jacobs announced immediately Gus would have to defend the bauble November 14 in the Garden against Tami. By flooring the 21-year-old kid in the second round, cutting his eye in the fourth, bloodying his nose in the sixth and generally running away with the match through the first 10 rounds, Lesnevich piled up so tremendous a margin that he had enough to hold off against Mauriello's closing drive.

Jockeys Battle At Thistle Down Track

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27.—The duels of D'Artagnan's Three Musketeers drew plenty of attention in their trio of heyday, but compared to that being given the hectic drive for top riding honors at Thistle Down between Jockeys Johnny Adams, Johnny Oros and Lyle Whiting, their press notices were trivial.

The end of the initial twelve days of racing in Thistle Down's 42-day running meet, which ends September 27, found the riding trio deadlocked with 13 victories each.

Never in Thistle Down's history has the battle for top riding honors among the jockeys been as torrid, and as a result the fans who depend on form and who stick with a winning jockey regardless of his mounts, are slowly but surely reading themselves for a real cure when they find Adams, Oros and Whiting riding in the same race day after day. The thousands of fans who watched the late Earl Dow make a runaway of things last year at the popular Warrendale, Ohio track are now watching the three newcomers.

AKRON PRO HOLDS FOUR-STROKE EDGE IN OHIO PGA PLAY

Herman Keiser, 26-Yr.-Old Newcomer, Man to Beat Among Pros

CINCINNATI, Aug. 27.—If anybody with years of Ohio golf tournament experience behind him is planning to win the state P. G. A. Open meet his main job is to beat a Johnny-come-lately by the name of Herman Keiser.

There are 26 holes left and this 26-year-old Akron pro, who has been in the state only two years, is already four strokes ahead of the field and seven strokes ahead of the 144 par for the first 36.

Keiser won the Iowa State tournament in 1937. His drives go out like 30-30s and his putts come in like homing pigeons. Witness his 69-68-137 yesterday.

Those who have watched him on the winter circuits say he's got the stuff to keep it up today against such old campaigners as Maurice McCarthy, Jr., of Cincinnati, former state amateur champion, who shot 72-69-141; Byron Nelson of Toledo, ex-National Open finalist, 69-72-141; Clay Gaddie of Terrace Park, 71-71-142; Rod Munday of Toledo, 72-72-144; and Johnny Malutic of Cleveland, 71-73-144.

Suddenly Spot Keiser

The gallery suddenly became aware of Keiser at the end of the morning round when he reported a three-under-par 69, tying the pace set by Nelson. He really got going on the way out in the afternoon with four pars in a row and four birdies on the next five for his 32.

Others still in the running, nominally speaking, include Jack Thompson of Youngstown, 72-73-145; Harry Boyer, host pro at Losantville, 73-74-147; Frank Gelhof of Cincinnati, 75-72-147; Al Alcroft of Youngstown, 74-73-147; Len Wagner of Cincinnati, 73-75-148; Jerry Burns of Hamilton, 75-72-148; Gene Marchi of Dayton and Frank Metzger of Akron, each with 72-77-149; and Clyde Mumma of Dayton, 75-74-149.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. (Pinch-Hitting For Eddie Brietz)

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—They really were hanging 'em from the rafters at Ebbets Field yesterday. Lots of the standees found they could see better by climbing up onto the beams, and if the Dodgers had been anywhere near winning that second game it probably would have hailed fans when the storm came up. . . . The press box was so jammed that the Dodgers' secretary, John McDonald, tried to make room for another working man by asking President Ford Frick of the National league to sit in Larry MacPhail's box. Frick said he didn't want to take a chance on getting into an argument and stayed where he was. . . . Luckiest guy in the park was Bob Brumphy of PM, who lost his ticket to the Lesnevich-Mauriello fight while he was moving his way through the mob and had it returned by Dick McCann of the News, who picked it up three blocks away.

Deception

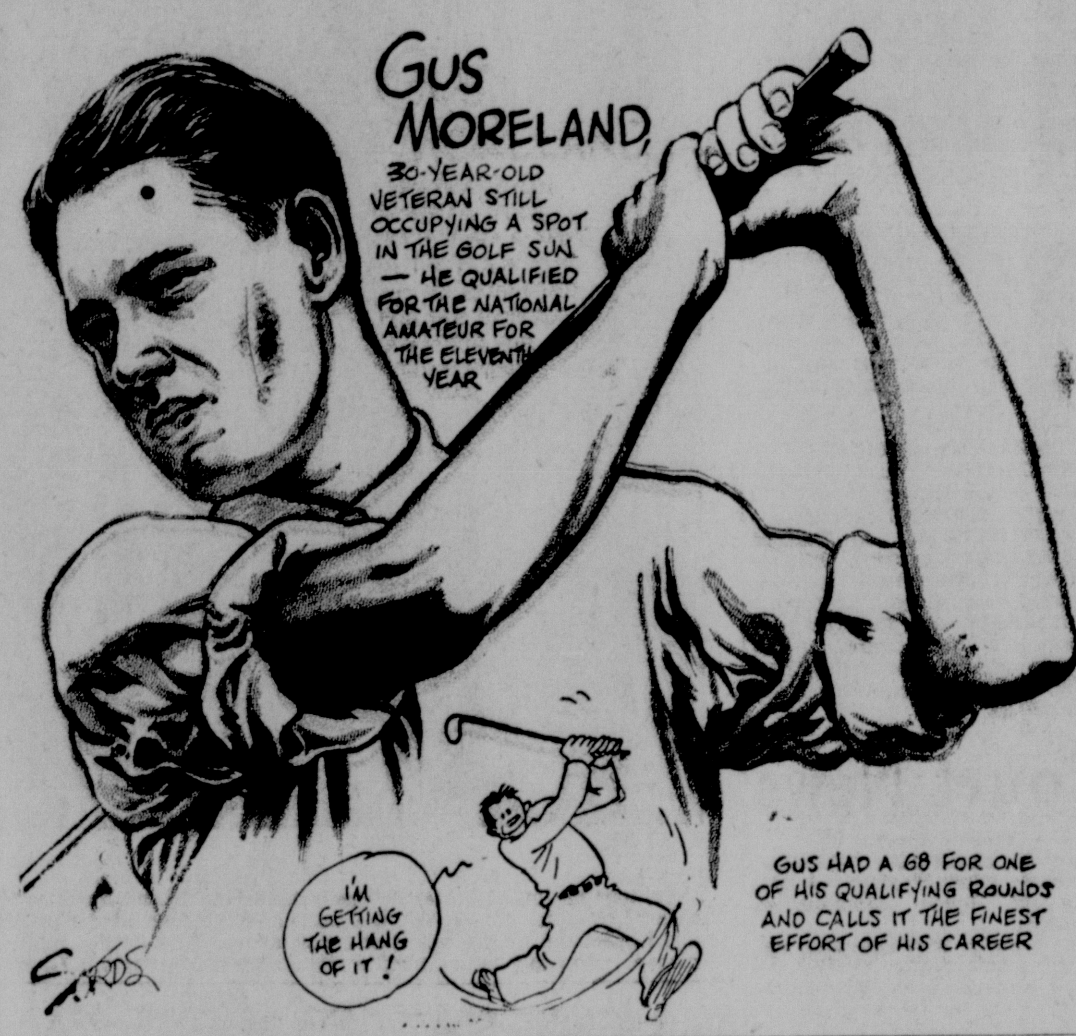

Minnesota's George Franck, who has been giving the home-town papers the news about the Chicago All-Stars, tells this one on Norm Standee, the Stanford fullback: Standee is color blind and when the coaches make a lot of changes during practice, he sometimes blocks a player on his own side. One of the opposing tackles caught on and hollered, "Hey, Norm, don't block me. I'm on your side." Norm didn't and the tackle smeared the play. Now Standee says he's going to block everyone in sight.

Sports Cocktail

Owner Warren Wright says he's definitely going to send Whirlaway after Seabiscuit's money-making record, because it would increase the colt's value when he's retired to stud. . . . Frank Leahy, who knows his way around in football, got lost in the subway and almost missed the opening session of the Herald-Tribune's football school. . . . Bill De Correvont says his draft number is getting close, but he thinks he'll get back to Northwestern for the football season. . . . Bill plans to enter the Naval Air Corps after his graduates next June if the army doesn't grab him first.

Grid-Groggy Columbus Eagerly Waiting To See Brown's New OSU Team

COLUMBUS, O. — The debut of youthful Paul Brown, the "miracle man" of Ohio high school football, into big time college competition has the gridiron fever running higher than usual in this pigskin-conscious city.

The 32-year-old coach who is taking the long jump from Massillon high school to Ohio State university in one leap finds himself landing squarely in the fire.

The Buckeyes have only three regulars and 10 other lettermen returning from the squad which last fall split even in eight contests in seventh and last year of the reign of Francis A. Schmidt here.

Somewhat sensitive to outside criticism for being "tough" on coaches, Ohio State fans will lean over backwards to give the new coach a chance but their patience and tolerance may be sorely tested before the season ends.

Schedule To Be Tough

As usual the Buckeye school has an eight-game "suicide" schedule with only one open date and no breather between Missouri on Sept. 27, and Michigan on Nov. 22.

But already there is talk "he can lose 'em all and we won't kick" as regards the personable Brown who has made a hit with his catchiness and his business-like methods of coaching.

A powerful thunderbolt from the freshman squad is expected to have something to say about the starting backfield, however. He is Paul Sarlinghaus, a 200-pound driver whom Schmidt tagged as sure-fire All-America before the resigned at the University of Idaho.

Ohio State will be well fortified at the tackles. Capt. Jack Stephenson, Thornton Dixon, Toledo, and Jim Daniell return for their third year.

Veteran Center Lacking

Brown will have a letter winner at every position except center. Bill Bell, a letter winner at the pivot position has been drafted. Bill Vickers, senior, and Earl Martin, sophomore, are expected to fill the gap.

Three veteran ends return in Sam Fox, Charles Anderson and Pete Hersberger. Bob Shaw, 6 feet 4, 245 pounds, and Leon Schoenbaum, 6 feet, 200, are two promising first-year candidates for flanker positions.

A couple of husky sophomores, Hal Dean and Lynn Houston are expected to give veterans Fritz

Loward and Ed Buckner a stiff battle for the No. 1 guard assignments.

Buckner's draft status is doubtful. He is enrolled in the college of agriculture and may be deferred.

Brown 12th of Line

Brown, who is Ohio State's 12th regular coach, has won his way into the hearts of the fans, faculty and students with his frankness and zest over the game. As far as Brown is concerned, the individual boy in high school or college is 14 more important than all the systems, diagrams and game movies put together.

In his nine years at Massillon, Brown's teams won 80 games, lost eight, and tied two. His eleven wins through five undefeated seasons. The last time an Ohio high school beat Massillon was in 1934.

Ohio State's schedule: Sept. 27—Missouri at Columbus. Oct. 4—Southern California at Los Angeles. Oct. 18—Purdue at Columbus. Oct. 25—Northwestern at Columbus. Nov. 1—Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh. Nov. 1—Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh. Nov. 8—Wisconsin at Columbus. Nov. 15—Illinois at Columbus. Nov. 22—Michigan at Ann Arbor.

INDIANS BACK IN 4TH AFTER BRIEF WEEKEND FLURRY

Fielding Lapses, Three Errors by Weatherly, Cause Defeat

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27.—Back in fourth place after a brief weekend-flurry, the hapless Indians hoped for better luck against Philadelphia today.

The Athletics named Johnny Babich to pitch the opener of a two-game series and the Redskins continued with Rookie Steve Gromek.

Tribal fielding lapses, including three errors by Roy Weatherly, and failure to hit in the pinches enabled Boston to beat Cleveland yesterday, 9 to 4, and advance into third place.

Dick Newsome, the Red Sox 31-year-old rookie, allowed the Tribe only eight hits and himself drove in three runs with a double.

Jeff Heath's 17th home run of the season accounted for three Cleveland tallies in the first inning and the Indians picked up their last run in the sixth on Heath's single, a double by Oscar Grimes and a fly.

Jim Bagby was touched for 10 hits in eight innings, finally being routed by Boston's four-run rally in the last stanza. Clint Brown stopped the outbreak after the damage was done.

WARNS AMATEURS NOT TO OVER-HIT

Johnny Goodman, National Amateur Host, Explains Deceptive Course

OMAHA, Aug. 27.—If these high-scoring National Amateur golf championship seekers will take a tip from Omaha's own Johnny Goodman, they'll start shooting for pars instead of birdies.

That was Johnny's advice today as 64 qualifiers for match play in the 45th amateur, none too successful in their medal-play battles with the field club's stubborn par-72, turned on personal engagements, with two 18-hole rounds on the "Black Wednesday" program.

Goodman, who wants to regain the title he won in 1937, credited unusually high qualifying scores to the fact the strangers to the field club's deceptive contours and distances were playing too boldly.

"They're shooting for the pins all the time, rather than playing safe simply to hit the green. And that's dangerous because of the speed of our greens and the trouble you can get into if you once roll off them," he said.

The qualifying medal went to the popular Stewart (Skip) Alexander, the 23-year-old former Duke University collegian who added a stupendous 77 to his first round 67. Skip's 144, exactly even par and set up early, led through the day.

Johnny Burke, the former intercollegiate champion, had the best chance to overtake Alexander but after a first nine he finished with a 41, his 77 leaving him a stroke behind Skip at 145.

MORE ARE ARRESTED IN PARIS ROUNDUP

PARIS, German-Occupied France, Aug. 26.—(Delayed)—French police, proceeding systematically house by house, today blocked off a large section of the fourth arrondissement (ward)—workers' district around city hall—and took into custody a number of persons described as Jews and Communists.

All residents in the area, which lies along the River Seine, were required to remain inside their homes and submit identification papers to the police.

(This raid followed others in two Paris arrondissements last week—the 11th and 20th—in which more than 10,000 persons were arrested.)

The first of German-occupied France's new courts "for unmerciful repression of Communist activities" started functioning, meanwhile, in the palace of justice. A special panel of judges from the Paris court of appeals was named to direct speedy trials with power to order imprisonment or death.

FREEDOM OF SEAS STRESSED BY U. S.

Policy Still Holds, Asserts Hull, In Traffic On Pacific Ocean

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Secretary of State Hull made plain today that the United States stood on a freedom-of-the-seas policy in connection with shipments of war supplies to Russia through the Pacific.

He was asked at his press conference whether the United States would insist on freedom of the seas in carrying out the shipments despite Japanese objections.

His reply was that until this policy was revoked, it could be assumed that it was in effect.

As to whether Japan had made formal representations to the United States concerning shipments to Vladivostok, Hull said he would leave any statement on this at the moment to the foreign office in Tokyo.

He said that the Japanese ambassador, Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura had asked for an appointment with him.

There was no immediate information as to Nomura's purpose.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, the Japanese ambassador, made an appointment with Secretary of State Hull today, close on the heels of Tokyo reports that shipments of American war supplies to Russia were irritating the Japanese.

The Japanese news agency, Domei, had reported from Tokyo earlier, however, that the Japanese government had made representations to the United States and Russia against shipment of American aviation gasoline to the Russian port of Vladivostok.

The Soviet government also had let it be known that it had informed Japan that it would regard as "an unfriendly act" any attempt by Japan to interfere with "normal trade relations between the Soviet union and the United States via Far Eastern Soviet ports."

Hit Fuel Shipments
TOKYO, Aug. 27.—Domei, quoting what it described as reliable sources, said the Japanese government had made representations recently to both the United States and Soviet Russia against shipment of American aviation fuel to the Soviet via Vladivostok.

The government, said the news agency, is taking a serious view of the situation.

Reports that both Russian and American ships are transporting not only gasoline but other supplies through Vladivostok was said to be "greatly irritating Japanese sentiment."

The fact that high octane fuel denied Japan was reported "pass-

"Manpower," starring Marlene Dietrich, Edward G. Robinson and George Raft, comes to the State for three days beginning tomorrow. Included in the cast are Alan Hale and Frank McHugh.

"Manpower" is a drama of two of the brave and hardy trouble shooters who keep the power lines open in storm, flood and disaster. It is also the story of their love for a woman.

Today at the State is John Ford's production of Eugene O'Neill's "The Long Voyage Home," with Thomas Mitchell, John Wayne, and Ian Hunter, the story of a group of men on the S. S. ing under the very noses of the Japanese," was described as especially displeasing.

Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye was received in audience this morning by Emperor Hirohito. Foreign Minister Vice Admiral Teijiro Toyoda later was received at the palace, presumably for a report on the complex international situation, but no details of the audience were disclosed.

Domei asserted that about 10,000,000 gallons high octane gasoline already had left the United States, bound for Soviet Russia, including four shiploads which sailed from west coast ports around Aug. 16.

The Japanese representations to the United States government were said by Domei to have been made in Washington.

Couldn't Stand It

The newspaper Kokumin said Foreign Minister Vice Admiral Teijiro Toyoda took formal action because "the imperial government was unable to remain indifferent to aid shipments from the standpoint of preserving peace in East Asia."

In answer to Japan comes word from Moscow that the Soviet government has informed Japan it would regard as an unfriendly act any attempt to hinder normal trade relations between the Soviet union and the United States via Far Eastern Soviet port.

At the same time Japan was assured that goods purchased by the U. S. S. R. in the United States "are destined in the first place for the satisfaction of the growing needs of the U. S. S. R. in the west in connection with the defense war imposed upon the Soviet union, as well as for agricultural needs in the Soviet Far East."

ployes that Knudsen requested them to delay their walkout 72 hours.

In compliance, the Aircraft Independent Vertical union postponed any strike action until Friday. The CIO-United Automobile and Aircraft Workers has charge that the independent union is dominated by the company.

The threat of a national telephone tie-up was averted today by settlement of a dispute between union installation men and the Western Electric company.

Negotiate 61 Hours
Dr. John R. Steelman, director of the U. S. conciliation service, won an understanding between the disputants after 61 hours of nearly constant negotiations.

Chief terms of the settlement were: A blanket wage increase of 6 cents an hour for about 9,000 employees; national recognition of the union as bargaining agent; new seniority provisions; an arbitration agreement, and the right on the part of the union to reopen the wage discussions March 1, 1942, if it seems fit to do so.

The Association of Communications Equipment Workers, an independent union, had issued a tentative strike call for mid-August, but the proposed walkout was held in abeyance at the request of the conciliation service while negotiations proceeded.

A new strike threat arose meanwhile at the Du Pont chemical plant at Belle, West Virginia. A committee of CIO employees there voted to strike Sept. 4 unless the company agrees to a collective bargaining election. The CIO claims 3,000 of the plant's 4,300 employees. G00 A-R emfwyp shrdlu etaoi

Miss Ruth Ruggy of 802 E. Third st., suffered a fractured right leg and three girl companions were injured in a traffic accident at Hannibal Mo., Friday evening while the group was returning from an extensive motor trip through the west and Canada. The car was demolished.

Her mother, Mrs. Rex Ruggy, did not learn complete details of the accident.

Miss Ruggy, who was treated first at the Hannibal hospital, has been taken to Blodgett Memorial hospital at Grand Rapids, Mich., where her brother, Dr. George Ruggy, is resident physician.

The others injured are Mrs. Ernest Pickle and Miss Betty Pickle of Toledo and Miss Ann Haney of Columbus. They were treated at the Hannibal hospital for cuts, bruises and back injuries.

Unfair Warfare

ROCKINGHAM, N. C. — The first battalion of the 41st Engineers didn't think so well of the second battalion today.

On small scale maneuvers, the first battalion rode in trucks almost to the place where it was ordered to attack the hike-weary second battalion.

But the second battalion didn't wait for the attack. It marched in a wide flanking movement, captured its opponents' trucks, including the kitchen, and rode back to camp.

The first battalion hiked the nine miles back.
